I currently serve as a Vice President and Principal Engineer for a consulting company with focus on water information management, hydrological modeling and planning. Born and grew up in Zhejiang and received my BS and MS degrees in Environmental Engineering from Beijing Technology and Business University and Tsinghua University, respectively, and Ph.D. in Water Resources engineering from University of Arizona.

I have a wonderful wife with two lovely children, 13 and 9 years. I have been enjoying traveling together with family and friends, swimming, running, and serving communities.
